Institute of Pulmonology, Medical & Research Development (IPMRD), is engaged in enhancing educational activities and clinical research in the field of Respiratory Medicine. The objectives of IPMRD include performing research to find solutions for local problems, to utilize research results in practice and guidelines formulation and to identify and initiate research in emerging fields of respiratory medicine. The IPMRD has given platform for clinical and research activities through the Lung Care Team to five research associates so far and has recently also set up a medical library. IPMRD has supported so far six Interventional Pulmonology Courses conducted at Fortis Hiranandani Hospital

We are pleased to announce T20 (Tuberculosis 20 cases), a "TB grand Round: Case based symposium" with an expert panel discussion to be held at Trident Hotel, Bandra Kurla Complex on 19th August 2012. This session aims to discuss the various clinical scenarios and challenges faced in the management of tuberculosis. As drug resistant tuberculosis is on the rise, it is important to know about obtaining specimens, handling specimens and which microbiological tests to be asked in various clinical scenarios.

We are fortunate to have an eminent expert panel and specialty panel for various extra pulmonary tuberculosis.

We are looking forward to seeing you at this interactive session.
